To Whom It May Concern,

As a Podiatrist practicing in Birmingham, MI, I see a lot of Neuropathic Pain conditions that require treatment options other than the continual titration of oral medications. I have found the topical pain creams compounded by BioMed Specialty Pharmacy to be a great alternative to the traditional approach of controlling my patient's pain.

Topical pain compounds offer patients an alternative to oral medications by treating pain at the source and lowering the possibility of adverse drug interactions thereby producing fewer side effects. By delivering medication directly to pain receptors, I have seen great improvement in many of my patients suffering from neuropathic conditions that are typically difficult to treat.

I would recommend the use of BioMed's pain compounds for treating painful conditions of the leg and foot and when other traditional oral remedies have failed.

Sincerely,
